STANDARDIZATION OF POWER ENGINEER EXAMINATIONS COMMITTEE

Using the 2004 and 2007 Edition of the ASME Academic Extracts for SOPEEC Examinations

We have been advised that the 2007 edition of the ASME Academic Extract (2007 Extract) is available in June, 2010.

In the June 2010 SOPEEC annual meeting, SOPEEC members passed a motion to allow examination candidates to use the 2007 Extract, in parallel with the 2004 Extract, for SOPEEC examinations effective July 1, 2010 and to retire the 2004 Extract on January 1, 2012.

After July 1, 2010, examinations will be based on both the 2004 Extract, and the 2007 Extract, as well as the 2004 and later editions of the ASME Codes. It is important for the candidates to state the edition of the ASME Codes that they are using in answering examination questions.

After December 31, 2011, when the 2004 Extract is retired, examinations will be based on the 2007 ASME Academic Extract and the 2007 and later editions of the ASME Codes. A candidate who uses earlier editions of the Codes or Extracts, does so at the risk that the information could be outdated and may not provide the correct answers.
